

Dear Friends of GBF,

Charitable Giving 2018

As the holiday season approaches, we ask that you keep the Grossman Burn Foundation in mind. When shopping for holiday presents, consider making a donation, spreading Christmas cheer and charitable giving. Donations on behalf of your family, friends or coworkers are a great way to honor your loved ones, support your community, and burn survivors.

The Grossman Burn Foundation engages local communities through public education and burn prevention outreach. Our mission is to provide effective, sustainable partnership solutions for the comprehensive treatment, care, and support of burn survivors and their families. Your generosity can make on a positive impact on many of our programs below:

Project Faith ~ provides assistance to burn survivors from overseas and in the U.S., making it possible for those in need to obtain necessary medical, emotional, financial, and psychological support... transforming and healing, both patients and families.

Senior Burn Prevention & Education ~ the elderly population is at higher risk for burn injury, severe complications and/or mortality. The Grossman Burn Foundation addresses this risk by offering free workshops throughout Southern California with burn prevention & safety education to seniors and their caregivers, in both English and Spanish.

Burn Survivor Family Camp ~ This annual 4-day event takes place in beautiful Lake Hughes, California and offers unique bonding activities to support burn survivors and their families.

The Humanitarian Assistance Manual ~ provides a step-by-step guide to aiding people in need of urgent medical care and support.

On a special note ~ The Grossman Burn Foundation mobilizes to serve families recently impacted by the Woolsey wildfires, burning over 96,000 acres and destroying 1500 structures throughout Ventura and Los Angeles Counties. In reflecting on these difficult times affecting our community, resolve is found in the strength and honor shown by all those who served and remain dedicated.

Know your donation could change the lives of those who need it the most...

With Much Gratitude,
GROSSMAN BURN FOUNDATION
